KEEPING WORKERS SAFE IN THE COLD

FALL PROTECTION ESSENTIALS

CANADIAN EXCLUSIVE! INTRODUCING KYORENE®

NEW: EASY ONLINE ORDERING AND SPECIAL OFFERS

In this issue:

As winter conditions continue, keeping workers safe in the cold is still an important consideration. Are your workers still properly protected from the elements?

The chances of falls causing injury – or worse – become more likely in colder weather. And, with spring around the corner (we hope), more work at heights means more risk on job sites. Be sure to invest in workers' safety with well-maintained and regularly updated equipment – see what's new in our full line of fall protection equipment from WORKHORSE®!

Baby, It's (Still!) Cold Outside

We might be done with winter, but it's not done with us just yet. As winter conditions continue, check out these 5 tips to ensure your workers are adequately protected from head to toe.
